

Capture of Puntung

(Left) Selection of trap site to capture Puntung, October 2011
© J Payne / BORA. (Right) Bringing materials in to the forest for construction of a temporary stockade; the wooden panels and posts were stored about 100 metres from the trap site, November 2011 © J Payne / BORA.

(Left) Provision for clean water supply was made by installation of a pump and pipeline to a small stream about 200 metres below the trap site.
(Right) Digging the pit for the trap, December 2011. Chisels were used to loosen and gouge out the rock to a depth of 8 feet. © J Payne / BORA.

(Left) Puntung in the trap, a few hours after her capture, 18 Dec 2011
© Justine Segunting / BORA. (Right) Puntung in her temporary stockade, 20 Dec 2011. © Abdul Hamid Ahmad / BORA.

Preparations for moving Puntung from the temporary forest stockade to the air lift site, 22 Dec 2011. © Azrie Alliamat / ITBC, Universiti Malaysia Sabah

Preparations for moving Puntung from the temporary forest stockade to the air lift site, 23 December 2011. © Azrie Alliamat / ITBC, Universiti Malaysia Sabah

Moving Puntung from the temporary forest stockade to the air lift site, through the night of 23-24 December 2011. © Azrie Alliamat / ITBC, Universiti Malaysia Sabah

Moving Puntung from the temporary forest stockade to the air lift site, dawn 24 December 2011. © Azrie Alliamat / ITBC, Universiti Malaysia Sabah